This weekend a large group of Manawatu athletes are travelling to Hamilton to compete in the Porritt Classic.

In the high jump there will be much interest in the performance of Hamish Kerr as he strives to get that New Zealand record.

Jordan Peters is in action in the long jump, whilst Corinna Minko has all the top women's long jumpers competing against her in the long jump.

Our high jumpers Lea Muetzel, Ranae Saville and Courtney Trow will get some very good competition in women's event. Ben Langton Burnell will be favoured to take out the Javelin on his now home training ground.

On the track, Kara Macdermid will run the 1500m and brother Noah, along with Benjamin Wall and David Lovelock will line up in the men's event. Andre Le Pine Day will run in the 800m. Richmond Wells is in for a busy day as he is entered in the 200m, 110m hurdles and the high jump. Jack Lower takes on Tom Walsh and Jacko Gill in the shot put.

Unlike most centres, Athletics Manawatu Wanganui include their centre championships as part of the major clubs club night and the first session will be held in Wanganui on Tuesday night starting at 6.45pm.

This means that there will not be a club night at the Palmerston North track however, the run jump throws activity will still take place.

The championship events in Wanganui are High Jump, Discus, 200m, 800m, and 3000m
